WAS IT SOMETHING

I SAID?

It appears that the legal representatives of the "Batman" Estate have taken a rather humorless stance, as evidenced by their recent written communication to me.
They seem to be reacting strongly to my comments regarding the character's well-documented hygiene issues, which I believe are rooted in a combination of factors, including his prolonged exposure to bat guano and the peculiar electromagnetic radiation emitted by his Acme Corporation utility belt.

Under the new Canadian and forthcoming EU Hate Speech Laws, they have threatened me with a potential long-term stay at a nearby FEMA Re-Education Training Center for merely stating these established truths.

This reaction raises questions about the limits of free speech and the absurdity of punishing someone for discussing a fictional character's quirks, especially when those quirks are part of the broader narrative that makes Batman such an enduring figure in popular culture. Recently, I received a rather aggressive telex demanding that I cease my criticisms of what they call a "true American Hero like the Batman."

It's quite absurd, isn't it?
I can't help but attribute my current predicament to the Red Curry Pancakes served at the early-bird dinner buffet of my previous lockdown facility, which I jokingly refer to as the Virus Plague Killer.
The sheer irony of it all is overwhelming!

the bizarre reality we find ourselves in.
The seasoned preacher who sold me my reserved seat ticket for the imminent "Rapture" is the same individual I hold responsible for enlightening me on the fact that entry to the Pearly Gates is strictly by appointment or reserved seating, debunking the myth of festival seating.
I neglected to mention to him, however, that a restraining order prohibits me from coming within 500 yards of those very gates. This preacher is known for his famous saying, "There is no rest for the wicked," a sentiment that resonates deeply with me, especially in my current predicament. Oh, the sheer irony of it all!

I must assert that my entire predicament stems from my overwhelming obsession with the delightful Red Curry Pancake Mixture Paste.

It’s a whimsical addiction that brings me joy, yet I find myself wishing to avoid the potential consequences of a society that often misinterprets passion as something nefarious.
Rather than fearing the looming presence of law enforcement or shadowy figures from the cartels, I choose to embrace my love for this unique culinary creation.
In essence, I wholeheartedly attribute my current situation to this irresistible Red Curry adds to the intrigue surrounding the case, highlighting the ongoing debate about accountability and the often-overlooked rights of our feline companions.

The recent revelations surrounding this event are intriguing, particularly in light of Seymore Hearst's esteemed reputation as one of the nation's foremost journalists, especially following the unfortunate loss of Jim Marrs.

Hearst has boldly suggested that the origins of this situation can be linked directly to Little Joey Buyhim.
Furthermore, I have corroborated this claim with additional credible sources, indicating that it could very well stem from the actions of the controversial figure, Putin, who has notably declined to pay the customary "10% for the Big Guy Tariff."
